We have 2 beautiful daughters together. I enjoy surfing the net on my computer, reading, cooking and collecting things in my home. I love gardening and hate getting my feet wet. I try to help others with my skills whether it is teaching others to play the guitar, turning a hobby into a job or helping a friend out. San Francisco California Exams Admissions@DesignationOne.org | We are pleased to announce that we have received approval from the California Board of Osteopathic Medicine to issue undergraduate and graduate diplomas to graduates of our Schools. The California Board of Osteopathic Medicine is an independent regulatory organization that licenses and regulates physicians, dentists, nurses, physical therapists, and other allied health professionals who practice in California. To begin the registration process, please see our Optional Preliminary Application. D.O. A.O. The Board does not sanction A.O. degrees. It does offer provisional licensure. A.O. candidates who have completed graduate education need not submit a preliminary application. They are granted provisional licensure and may take the D.O. exam at any time. While at least five years of education is required to become licensed as an osteopathic physician (D.O.) in California, any individual already licensed as an A.O. and who has had a cumulative year-long (or longer) education satisfying all state licensure requirements may apply for provisional licensure by the California Board of Osteopathic Medicine. California D.O.'s are granted provisional licensure and may practice osteopathic medicine without the need for additional education. Technically, the Board does not regulate A.O.'s. It does not have the authority to initiate investigation of any possible violation of the laws of California. Requirements and Restrictions All A.O. candidates who have completed at least 48 hours of course work, and have achieved at
