Fifa 22 Features Key:

- HyperRealism. FIFA 22 is the only football game that models accurate and realistic movement using actual player data collected while they were playing a match. Real players in real football scenarios bring to life true, authentic player movement and AI.
- Pitch and weather conditions. FIFA's all-new weather system allows you to choose the perfect weather conditions for your game. Using the upcoming game's flexible and dynamic weather systems, gamers can choose customized conditions for designated leagues around the globe. Icons will be displayed in the pitch along with the day's forecast to let you decide whether or not you want to play in a rainy Wednesday.
- New animations. Create and customize your best player to have the ball glued to their feet. Choose from an arsenal of player tricks and point of view animations, all with motion capture. Rely on your team's creativity, reflexes and improvisation skills to beat your opponent in any style of play. Experiences will appear fluid when their attributes kick in based on their skills, reaction, intensity and shot confidence. Move and sprint the way they do in real life, with realistic and believable movements. New realistic facial animations capture player expressions, with details that make them appear as if they are truly players rather than still images. Facial animations include more than 20 movements with a more realistic representation of players' full range of facial expressions.
- Fluid Shots. Make your shots as true as your real life play. Imagine your most accurate shots landing as close to the net as possible to give you a real competitive edge on the pitch. This goes beyond the "whipping" technique we've seen in past FIFA games. Icons will appear as if the shot is airborne to help you determine whether or not to hit it.
- Enhanced Dribbling. Precision and speed have never been so important. Dribble with more awareness to separate defenders and free up space as you combine speed and agility to open up the pitch. Now throw the ball in every direction and accelerate on and off the foot like a real player. Get off one touch passes with greater flexibility, and jump into the play, pass, and receive with accuracy and conviction. Smooth shots, accurate long balls and precise cutbacks make dribbling in FIFA more dynamic and exciting than ever before.
- New Touch Control technology. Controls are now sensitive to the smallest movements. Never miss a shot again with fingertip control to

1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a television decoding system, and more particularly, to a television decoding system and method for supporting variable size video object planes (VOPs). 2. Description of the Related Art Generally, a video object plane (VOP) is a point in a video frame in which a video object is included. A video object typically refers to a video stream divided into video packets. Each video packet includes a header and a payload. The payload in a video packet may include a video frame. In the field of video compression, the video objects are encoded, compressed, and multiplexed into a bitstream according to a video object plane (VOP) size. Video content encoded in accordance with a video object plane (VOP) size having fixed-length video bitstreams may be decoded by a conventional video decoding system. However, if multiplexed bitstreams having variable-length video bitstreams are decoded in accordance with fixed-length video bitstreams, a variable-length decoded video bitstream will have bitstreams having a fixed length that cannot be decoded using the variable-length decoded video bitstream. The problems of video decoders that decode only fixed-length video bitstreams may be overcome by supporting variable size video object planes (VOPs). The following Table 1 shows fixed-length
